Act Becomes Effective at Midnight

REPORT THREE BILLS IN ONE

Prohibitionists in House Plan Single Eight on All Measures—Prescribe Percentage.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—War-time prohibition will become effective next Monday at midnight without enactment by Congress of additional legislation for its enforcement.

But it's a matter of confusing developments that fact stands out clearly in view of the decision of the house judiciary committee charged with the duty of preparing and submitting enforcement machinery, to report three bills in one, each standing on its own legs, and capable of holding its own in the event the others were made invalid by Congress or the courts.

Chairman Voelker of the committee told the Senate yesterday there was no possibility of the passage of the joint measure before July 1, but that there existed ample means of enforcement and ample penalties for violation of the wartime act. The full and explicit definition of "intoxicating liquors"—any beverage or product containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol—set by the bureau of internal revenue, left no doubt, he said, as to how the courts would construe the law or deal with offenders.

Act on All at Once.

No attempt was made by prohibition members of the committee to conceal their satisfaction in having ordered the three bills sent to the house in one so as to prevent more than one fight. Some members estimated that Title I, the wartime enforcement measure, would still be unpassed when Title II, the permanent prohibition bill, was finally enacted. It was pointed out by others that the laws made it mandatory on the president to sign when demolition was completed which would automatically permit saloons to resume operations until January 16, 1920, when constitutional prohibition will become effective.

Members of the judiciary committee said that while they did not look for action by the Senate this week or next, the general view was that with the signing of the peace treaty by Germans and the government assurance of speedy demobilization, issuance of the president's proclamation might not be held up longer than Labor day at the latest. Indeed, it appeared to be the opinion among many members of the house that the sale of liquor in cities where the sale of liquor now is permitted, will be serving drinks much sooner than the public imagined.

In Three Parts.

As the prohibition enforcement measure finally is put in shape for the house it will be divided into three parts or titles. First, general enforcement of wartime prohibition effective on its approval; second, constitutional prohibition; third regulations for the manufacture of industrial alcohol, the latter two effective January 16, 1920.

The first part of the committee is to substitute bodily the bill introduced yesterday by Representative Phelan, democrat of Ohio, this being the measure prepared last winter by Mr. Gard, Chairman Voelker and Representative Whaley of South Carolina. It stands alone and its provisions are less drastic than the constitutional bill.

Title 2 is the stinger. Voelker's bill endorsed by anti-saloon organizations and regarded as the most drastic measure of the kind ever put before Congress. Title 3, the over bill, relates to industrial alcohol, its manufacture and regulation.

The fact that the committee finally reached a definite agreement as to procedure does not mean that a solid front will be shown in the house, for it was thought the minority report would be submitted.

FRENCH WILL CELEBRATE ON JULY 14, BASTILLE DAY

PARIS, June 26.—The French government has decided that the official victory celebration by France shall take place July 14.

July 14 is Bastille day, the principal French holiday. It also is the anniversary of the beginning by the Germans in 1918 of their last drive toward Paris, which ended so disastrously for them through the staunch Franco-American resistance and ultimate counter attack.

Oregon, Ill.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year it made it very hard for me."

"I saw the compound advertised in our paper, and tried it. It has restored my health so I can do all my work and I am so grateful that I am recovering it to my friends."—Mrs. D. M. Alter, 40 years old.

Only women who have suffered the tortures of such troubles, and have dragged along from day to day can realize the relief which this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, brought to Mrs. Alter.

POLICE SEARCH FOR SLAYER OF J. E. BROWN

No arrests have been made in connection with the killing of J. E. Brown, negro, who was shot near 30th and Cincinnati avenue at midnight. Westgate.

Capt. L. W. Hawley and Detective Jim Parton, who are working on the case, believe they have close leads which will soon lead to the apprehension of the slayer. Brown, who was employed as a janitor in the Sinclair building, was shot twice by the unknown assailant, one bullet entering his left hand and the other penetrating his neck under the right ear. He died instantly and when examined by Detective Langley had an open knife in his hand.

of such beer. The appellate court decision strikes out the injunction "pending life" against the federal prosecutor, making it possible for him to proceed as he sees fit, but nothing to force the injunction against McElroy, regarding whom the court made this observation:

"The injunction against the acting collector of internal revenue can do no harm."

BREWERS AND U. S. BOTH CLAIM VICTORY

The brewing interests had tried to sustain one-half of 1 per cent or more of alcohol as malt liquor and that during that time the brewers of the country had acquiesced in that definition. Congress had not yet defined what percentage of alcohol made beer "intoxicating"; he said, but it was reasonable to expect it would do so.

"But in the absence of some definite legislation," said Judge Rogers, "the meaning of the term, 'intoxicating liquors' must be a question of fact and not of law. The court can only undertake to say, as a matter of fact, that the liquor which contained 2½ per cent of alcohol by weight is not intoxicating."

operate the cars without armed guards

No action has yet been taken by the state corporation commission regarding the petition of the company to be allowed to take up the car lines in Sapulpa and discontinue their service in the city. A representative of the commission is expected to arrive in Sapulpa today to investigate the strike situation and also to investigate the charges that the city officials failed to maintain peace there. It is probable that the commission will hold a hearing on the case soon, and the officials of the city will be called upon to show that the operation of the cars in Sapulpa has always been at a loss to the whole of Germany, at least over a part of it.

and diplomatic quarters. Many army officers seconded inclined that he would undertake a coup d'état, but as some of the enthusiasts there was a conviction that tempting bait had been held out to the younger Hohenlohe and that his assurances had been given in the flight from Holland.

It was reported that the officer's association in Germany recently was reported to have sent a telegram to the Dutch government protesting against the surrender of the fortune of the crown prince to the British.

The Hohenlohe family, it is believed, might also have been a factor in influencing Frederick William to go home.

As to just what inducements might have been offered to the Dutch government to assist in his escape, the possibility of the former crown prince might be picked to lead despite the feeling of resentment against him among many men who fought in the ranks of the armies.

If an attempt at a coup d'état develops, the general feeling here is that it would not, on its face at least, have for its immediate ultimate object renewal of war against the associated powers. However, it is believed quite possible that with sufficient numbers of imperialists and monarchists behind him, Frederick William might make an effort to set up a government, if not the whole of Germany, at least over a part of it.

PARIS, June 26.—Frederick William Hohenlohe, the former German crown prince, has escaped from Holland and made his way into Germany.

News of the escape of the ex-crown prince caused a considerable stir in peace conference circles. While it is not felt that he is a figure around which the reactionaries and monarchists would gather enthusiastically, nevertheless his act is regarded as an event of considerable significance in view of other German recalcitrancy.

Hints have come from Germany within the last few days that the military caste would not be averse to bringing about a military situation within the former empire that would embroil the allies in Central Europe to 1 against the measures of the cots from towns and villages nothing being heard from the rural districts where the league counts on scoring heavily.

Outdoor Chorus Last Night.

Owing to the intense heat the 20 members of the choir of the First Christian church held their Thursday evening rehearsal out-of-doors in the park across the avenue from the National Association of Retail Grocers. Atlanta, Ga., was chosen for the 1920 convention city and Francis E. Kamper of Atlanta was elected trustee for one year.

suberable street fighting and looting, apparently are on the way. A news service from Berlin says that persons who had been held captive since the armistice were freed at the meeting at Helsingfors.

Pending details, official discussion of the event and its bearing on German affairs and the question whether it involves violation of neutrality by Hohenlohe, is withheld.

Recent Berlin dispatches printed in the Paris newspapers are recalled in which unnamed but allegedly well-placed persons commented on the sinking of the German fleet in Scapa Flow, and the burning of French battle flags, saying they were not surprised and declared that other equally startling events might be anticipated.

Since the Scapa Flow incident the Parisians have greatly alighted in the popularity of the former German emperor's escape from Holland, coupled with the indirect question as to what measures had been taken to prevent such a move.

The presence in Germany at this moment of Frederick William, when the fate of the peace treaty still hangs in the balance has caused considerable speculation regarding the next development in the situation.

The memorandum set forth that the Turkish government proposed to restore the independence of Armenia and to grant some form of autonomous government to Palestine and Arabia under Turkish governors.

Abolish Sub-Treasury.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—First reports on the referendum election held today in North Dakota, on seven measures of the non-partisan league passed by the last legislature, show that the non-socialists won a majority in 10 against the measures.

The vote is from towns and villages nothing being heard from the rural districts where the league counts on scoring heavily.

HOUSE AND SENATE UNABLE TO AGREE ON ARMY FUNDS

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Powers of control between the Senate and the House as to economy of appropriations for government departments loomed up today when conferees on the $83,000,000 arms appropriation bill failed to reach an agreement on the size of the army for 1920, and decided to report a disagreement to their respective chambers.

Intimations of such a conflict were given in the house today by Representative Montell, Wyoming, republican, leader, who in connection with selection of conferees on the army bill, said he hoped house representatives on the conference committee would realize the general attitude of the house toward senate increases.

Chairman Kahn of the house military committee at the same time said he would insist on acceptance of the size of the lower house appropriations, and late today after the conference committee agreed to report a disagreement, announced he would bring up the matter of army size when the house meets tomorrow in an effort to obtain a vote on the senate amendment.
